Workshop 12

ELTIF Online Programmes

English Language Teachers' Interaction Forum

ELTIF invites you to another online programme, as part of its Continuous Professional Development (CPD) Projects.

English Language Teacher Empowerment Programme (ELTEP)

One past-midnight, a circus lion escaped from its cage and vanished into the dark. After months, it was caught and brought back. After a few more days of rigorous training, it was presented before the overcrowded gallery. This time, instead of jumping through the ring of fire, the beast leaped into the cheering crowd. The rest is part of history. Later in the day, an old man told himself: "Training doesn't work."

ELTIF never had had training on its agenda—only empowerment.

The ELTIF online lecture series is in progress. Considering the requests and demands of school teachers, who always have been our mainstay, ELTIF launched a monthly Teacher Empowerment Programme on 5th September 2021 (Teacher's Day): a series of workshops.

The two main objectives of the online workshops are; (a) to enable the teachers to develop their communicative competence through discussion, presentation and interaction, and (b) to enrich their methodological awareness by listening to the resource persons.

'Interaction' is the key word; democracy is the mode of functioning. All are equal at ELTIF.

Experiential Learning: From World to Word

Language learning is an every-moment activity and it progresses through day to day experience. In that case, any experience is a tool for learning a language. Commonplace, as well as funny situations, in everyday life can be an effective tool in triggering the interest of the learners. This workshop session deliberates on how such informal situations can be brought to the formal framework of classroom teaching-learning, so that learning a new language and developing critical thinking may occur simultaneously through humorous and enjoyable life situations.
