English Language Teachers' Interaction Forum (ELTIF):

Isn't it high time that we started looking for methodologies for teaching English language and literature, which satisfy the demands of the society, suit the learner's needs and aptitudes, and lead both the teacher and the learner to self-empowerment?

Reason for this self-inquiry: Methodologies that came along with the foreign language may have their own agenda—propagating their language. But our purpose is not adding to the number of speakers to that language.

ELTIF explores the potentials of the global language and the literatures that come to us through it. ELTIF inquires the possibilities of empowering the learner, teacher, and the society at large through interacting with the rest of the world by using that language of opportunities. For those who seek alternatives, ELTIF always provides space.
